Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

LITTLE ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett, who have been visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. Leitch, for the past couple of weeks, left on Saturday for their home in Lansing, Mich. Mrs. Leitch accompanied them as far as Calgary and returned to Carbon Sunday evening.

Mr. Baird is having the building behind the Pool room repaired and furnished and when completed the structure will house the office of the Alberta Government Telephones.

Mrs. G. Malton, Mrs. H. Willson and Mrs. G. Peters motored to Calgary on Saturday and returned that evening.

An added feature at the theatre on Saturday night was the pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight.

Rev. C. B. and Mrs. Oakley and Miss Mae Williams motored into Calgary on Monday.

The plastering has been completed on Len Poxon's new house and the stucco building now presents a fine appearance to that section of the town.

The Carbon Board of Trade will hold a luncheon in the Masonic Hall on Monday evening, Nov. 7 (Thanksgiving Day). Rev. Geo. A. Dickson, minister of Knox United Church, Calgary, will deliver his popular and humorous address: "The Folks Next door." The Ladies Aid from Gamble will cater for this banquet.

Mrs. L. Poxon and Mrs. F. Bessant were Calgary visitors this week and returned on Tuesday.

C.H. Nash and R.C. Barr went duck shooting on Tuesday and returned with eight fine birds.

The re-opening of the Farmers' Exchange Hall is to be celebrated by a big dance on Monday evening October 31st. Music for the evening will be played by the Jolly Boys Orchestra of Calgary and a real good time is promised on this occasion.

The Farmers' Exchange Hall has just been repainted and other improvements made, the outstanding of which being the laying of a new hardwood floor, and now no one should have any excuse for not patronizing the Carbon dances.

With fine weather for the past ten days, harvesting has gone ahead with great rapidity and now over 60% of the threshing in this district has been completed. The yield is particularly heavy this year and some of the crops are yielding as high as 60 bushels to the acre. With the dry weather now, the grain is not tough and although the grade is around No. 2, the farmers seem well satisfied and everything points toward a period of prosperity in this district.

FIRE BURNS F. BESSANT'S CAR

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire was noticed in the garage just behind Len Poxon's new house and an alarm was immediately sent in. A crowd soon gathered and by the time the hose reel was out the fire was extinguished. The origin of the fire is not known, but somehow it started in the seat of Freddy Bessant's Chevrolet roadster, which was in the garage at the time, and all the upholstery and the top of the car was completely destroyed. Otherwise little damage was done to the car and the garage.

WORK HAS COMMENCED ON NEW CURLING-SKATING RINK

The old school ground, on which the new curling and skating rinks are to be built, has been levelled off and is ready for the building. On Monday of this week, D.F. McKinnon, with the aid of a couple of the business men of Carbon, put in the forms for the cement foundation and they are now ready for the concrete. A number of the business men were working on this yesterday and as soon as they have this work completed everything will be ready for the building part of the rink. This will be put up entirely with volunteer labor, with the help of a carpenter to supervise the construction of the building. Owing to the lateness of the season construction work will have to be rushed if the building is to be completed before the snow flies, and everyone will have to co-operate if we are to have skating and curling this year.

Writing in the Farm & Ranch Review, C.W. Peterson says of the Wheat Pool: "It seems obvious to me that an organization which controls the wheat production of 135,000 farmers, fifty per cent of all Canada's wheat and twenty-five per cent of the world's exportable surplus and which is organized to render services to its membership at actual cost, can effect such economies in handling, and has such tremendous power, that to place it side by side with the comparatively puny efforts of even the greatest of private grain handling concerns is fantastic in the extreme."

POOL MAKES FINAL PAYMENT 12 CENTS

Final Payment cheques to all Alberta Wheat Pool members who delivered wheat to the 1926 Pool are now in the mails, and the fourth year's operations of this organization have been concluded.

The Central Selling Agency has turned back to each of the Provincial Pools a Final Payment of 12 cents per bushel on One Northern, which with the Initial Payment of $1.00 made at time of delivery, together with First and Second Interim payments of 15 cents each, makes a total of $1.42 on One Northern basis Vancouver paid to the Alberta Pool on 1926 deliveries. From this 12 cents Final Payment, 3½ cents per bushel is being deducted on all grades by the Alberta Pool, consisting of 2 cents for Elevator Reserve and 1½ cents to cover Commercial Reserve and operation and administration expenses, leaving a net total price realized by Alberta Pool members of $1.38½ on One Northern basis Vancouver.

The net operation and administration expenses for the year just closed amounted to nine-twentieths of a cent per bushel, or a trifle less than one-half cent per bushel.

The amount deducted for Elevator reserve purposes is credited to each member according to the number of bushels he shipped to the 1926-27 Pool on the basis of 2 cents per bushel. This is not an expense, but is actually an asset to the grower, a sum of money retained by the Pool for the sole purpose of acquiring elevators, in the ownership of which he is a partner with all the other members. Interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum is paid to him in cash by the Pool as each year's interest falls due on the amount deducted for Elevator Reserve purposes.

All Canada Agrees

"It's Better because it's Canadian"

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . a year ago General Motors of Canada gave first utterance to this phrase.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . newspapers and magazines all over Canada took up the theme, impressing on Canadian citizens the pride they should justly feel in the products of their country.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . the phrase has struck home, has become a challenge to the Canadian manufacturer and to the Canadian buyer.

"It's Better because It's Canadian" . . . it is a fact. And because it is a fact . . . because General Motors was inspired to put it into words . . . because Canadian editors added to its impetus . . . because Canadians accepted it . . . and because the standard of Canadian quality proved it true. . . .

. . . all Canada has enjoyed a greater measure of prosperity; and General Motors of Canada, with many other Canadian manufacturing organizations, has just completed the most successful year in its history.

Latest Achievement Of British Salvors

Towed Ex-German Warship Upside Down For Three Miles

The towing of a 23,000-ton warship upside down for three miles is the latest achievement of British salvors. The ex-German battle-cruiser Moltke was raised nearly three months ago from the floor of Scapa Flow, in the Orkneys, by Messrs. Cox and Danks. She lay on Cava Island bottom upwards, and much of her outer casing was removed. But in her exposed position work would be impossible during the winter gales, and it was decided to remove her to Lyness. All holes were plugged and pumping began, and as the air-pressure increased and she became partly buoyant a floating dock was placed on each side. Then her last voyage began to Lyness Pier.

Icelander's Remarkable Feat

Swam Twelve Miles In Arctic Ocean With Temperature at 33 Degrees

Swimming the English channel is mere play beside the feat of a young Icelander, Erlingur Palsson, a constable of Reykjavik, who swam twelve miles in the Arctic Ocean with the water at a temperature of 32.8—barely above freezing point. He wore three bathing suits.

It is 900 years since this swim from the island of Drangoe, in the Skagafjord, to the mainland has been accomplished and that was by the legendary outlaw, Grettir. Until Palsson swam the distance nobody believed the legend, for it was regarded as impossible for a human being to endure the freezing water for the four and a half hours necessary to cover the twelve miles.

No one need endure the agony of corns with Holloway's Corn Remover at hand to remove them.

Here is a story a Hiawatha, Kansas, young lady told on herself. It is the honest truth. She is still wearing a dress she wore when she was 12 years old. Each year she says, in order to keep pace with the march of fashion, she takes up the dress at the hem. So it annually gets shorter.

DEBILITY DUE TO INDIGESTION

Perfect Digestion Comes Through Rich, Red Blood

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. It is also true that there is no tonic for the stomach that is not at tonic for every other part of the body. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to tone up the blood.

The many so-called stomach remedies merely try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating pre-digested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin you need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and restore strength. In addition use care in the selection of your food and your stomach trouble will soon pass away. Mr. Gordon Dundas, Peterboro, Ont., tells us follows what this medicine did for him. He says: "Something over a year ago I was a gasoline salesman when I was taken sick. I felt very miserable and lost twelve pounds in weight. I did not sleep well and could not eat as I could scarcely retain anything in my stomach. I went to a local doctor who told me the times of the gas had got into my system. He gave me some medicine and told me I had better go to the country for a change of air. I did so, but I still felt listless and groggy, and had no ambition. On the advice of a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been taking the pills long before I was beginning to rest better, and to eat fairly well. I kept on taking the pills until at the end of the seventh box I knew I did not need any more, as I had gained the weight I had lost, slept well and could eat anything. I have since had splendid health and cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OCTOBER 23

THE CALL OF THE PROPHET

Golden Text: "And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, 'Here am I; send me.'"—Isaiah 6:8.

Lesson: 1 Kings 19:19, 20; Amos 7:10-15; Isaiah 6:1-8. Devotional Reading: Psalm 40:5-10.

Explanations and Comments

I. The Call Of the Prophet Elisha, 1 Kings 19:19, 20.—Elisha was plowing with twelve pair of oxen before him, eleven pair guided by his servants while he himself guided the twelfth pair. Elisha approached and cast upon Elisha his mantle, which was the characteristic garb of the prophets, Zech. 13:1; this was Elisha's call to the prophet's office. It is an interesting fact, by the way, that the insignia which graduates of certain colleges in England wear on appropriate occasions—the lambkin hood or cloak—can be traced back to Elisha's mantle, which was the skin of some animal dressed with the hair left on. "I wish that his mantle might fall upon me," is an expression not infrequently heard from one who covets another's gifts or graces.

Elisha ran after Elijah and promised to follow him after he had said farewell to his father and mother. And Elisha said to him, "Go back again; for what have I done to thee?" "Whatever sacrifice was involved in the prophetic call was to be made ungrudgingly. Elisha, like our Lord, would have no half-hearted service." Compare Luke 9:59-62.

II. The Call Of the Prophet Amos, Amos 7:14, 15.—Then answered Amos. His consciousness of his divine commission upheld him in the face of the threats and commands of the high priest Amaziah; see verses 19-23.

"I was a herdsman and a dresser of sycamore trees." Sycamore trees yielded fruit which would ripen only after being punctured and to do this was the humble and scantily remunerating task of Amos. He was not a member of a prophetic guild, he was an "inspired farmer" chosen by God to be His messenger to Israel.

Value Of Newspaper Advertising

Waxes ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood poisoning and death resulted.

Celebrated Eighth Birthday

British civil aviation having recently celebrated its eighth birthday, I took the trouble to dig up a few facts concerning the career of this healthy youngster. I won't bore you with too many figures, but it should be placed on record that during the past eight years British Air Services have flown approximately six million miles and have carried 90,000 passengers on regular services, while since April 1, 1924, over 50,000 passengers have crossed the Channel alone. — London Bystander.

Mothers Should Use

When The Babies Are Cutting Teeth

During the baby's teething time, in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and other bowel complaints manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.

BENNETT CHOSEN NEW LEADER OF CONSERVATIVES

Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., Calgary, is the new leader of the Conservative Party in Canada.

On the second ballot, the national convention of the party accorded him two more votes than the necessary one-half of all votes cast.

Mr. Bennett, speaking with much emotion, acknowledged the election of his leadership.

"It was difficult, Mr. Bennett said, for him to find words with which to express his sentiments.

"I thank you for your more than generous support, which was wholly unmerited," he said.

Mr. Bennett recalled that men occasionally attended some great religious edifice for the purpose of renouncing many things and in order to be consecrated to a life of service. The feeling might be different about a meeting of this nature but Mr. Bennett felt that the delegates had endeavored to set him aside for a life of service to Canada.

Mr. Bennett declared he could think of no more appropriate reply than to quote from the Scripture: "Whosoever among you will be chiefest among you shall be servant of all."

"You have made me your leader for the time and please God that I may be your faithful servant," Mr. Bennett added, while cheers drowned the last of his remarks. He pleaded for the whole-hearted cooperation of the rank and file in discharging their duties and responsibilities as citizens of a great Dominion.

"If each of you must see to it that an educated democracy governs the destinies of Canada, if you have all become firm believers in Conservative policies, the party will act as an instrument for good in the development of our country and in the advancement of our national life."

Mr. Bennett stated that his election to the leadership involved his renunciation of many things he had held most dear in the past.

"These things I must now put behind me, for no man may serve two masters," Mr. Bennett said. "You have told me to dedicate what talents and qualifications I may have to the interests of the party which I will now be privileged to lead."

It was true, Mr. Bennett continued, that he was a man of considerable wealth, wealth accumulated through capitalized opportunities on the great Western plains. No man, he said, could serve satisfactorily with pecuniary obligations hovering over his head. In this respect, he said, he could serve his country without fear.

Canada's future, the new leader declared, must be one of unlimited expansion and increased prestige among the nations of the world. There was a great opportunity for the Conservative Party to act as an instrument in bringing the right policies into being for the country. He emphasized the need of organizing the younger generation to which the present leaders could safely look to carry on the work of the party.

If effect were given to the Conservative policies sufficient industrial expansion would result to provide all our sons and daughters with employment within the borders of the Dominion.

"There must be no sacrifice of convictions; there must be no compromise of principles. Promise that you will be missionaries for your own party and your efforts will be crowned with success. You will then have a government that will reflect your aspirations, your ideals and hopes, in power in Ottawa," he said.

Japanese Volcano Erupted

Covered Countryside For Seventy Miles With White Ash

Tokio.—With a thunderous roar, Arama-Yama, active Japanese volcano, erupted recently, emitting an immense volume of thick black smoke and covering the countryside with a white ash.

Farmers at work in the fields were compelled to use umbrellas as a protection from the ashes which fell as far distant from the volcano as Utsunomiya, seventy miles to the east.

(Arama-Yama is about 80 miles southwest of Tokio.)

Says Baffin Land Habitable For Whites

But Is Not Desirable Place Dr. Livingston Finds

Ottawa.—Baffin Island, although not as pleasant a place of residence for white men as more Southern latitudes, is nevertheless capable of sustaining a vigorous and contented native population. This is an essential point in the report of Dr. L. D. Livingston who has just returned from 15 months duty as medical officer in the Canadian Arctic Archipelago. Dr. Livingston who was a member of the staff of each annual expedition to the Canadian Arctic, from 1922 to 1926, examining the natives at the different ports of call, remained in the North at the conclusion of the 1926 patrol and spent the winter of 1926-27, and the spring and summer of this year, in a detailed inspection of the natives in the interior whom it had not been possible to see on his previous annual visit.

The need of educating the Eskimos in wild life protection, in the practice of economy, and in methods of hygiene is strongly urged by Dr. Livingston. The habit of putting aside supplies of food and other necessities for seasons of scarcity and a knowledge of sanitation would greatly improve general conditions among the Eskimos of the Eastern Arctic.

Plans For Willingdon's Visit To Washington

Program Being Worked Out By Canadian Legation and State Department

Washington.—The tentative program of entertainment of Lord Willingdon and Lady Willingdon at Washington, December 18, is now being worked out by the Canadian Legation and state department. It will be the first visit a Canadian Governor-General has made to Washington since that of the Duke of Connaught in war years, and the first time Canada's titular head has been entertained in Washington on Canadian territory.

His Excellency will exchange visits with President Coolidge and members of the cabinet and will be given the usual recognition of a representative of royalty.

It is understood that the visit has no special purpose except to establish of personal contact between the governor-general and heads of the U.S. government.

On previous occasions the Canadian Governor-General has been a guest at the British embassy. The difference on this occasion will be that he will be able to entertain officially at the Canadian Legation as the representative of Crown in Canada.

Needs Full Autonomy

Canada's Highest Destiny Rests With In British Commonwealth Says Borden

Winnipeg.—"I yield to no man in my assertion of the fullest autonomy for this great country as a nation within the British Commonwealth of nations," declared Sir Robert Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada, in addressing the Canadian Club here.

The highest destiny of this great Dominion, Sir Robert said, rests with the British Commonwealth.

The former Premier dealt with the influence of the early French settlement in Canada on the development of the Dominion as an integral part of the British Empire.

The sheep and swine show, it was decided, will be held on November 1, 2 and 3; the dressed poultry show on December 7; live poultry exhibition, January 17, 18 and 19; and horse and cattle show, March 27-29.

The longest ocean wave ever measured was 675 feet.

Premier Offers Congratulations

Sends Wire To Hon. R. B. Bennett On His Appointment To Leadership

Ottawa.—Among the first to telegraph congratulations to Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., who was selected by the national convention to be leader of the Conservative Party, was the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, and leader of the Liberal Government. The Prime Minister despatched the following wire to Mr. Bennett:

"I have just learned of your selection as leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, and desire to tender to you very hearty congratulations upon the confidence thus expressed in you by the members of your party, and on the distinguished honor which they have conferred upon you."

The telegram bears the Prime Minister's signature.

An Important Agenda

Ottawa.—The premiers of the provinces of Canada will face an imposing agenda of nearly forty items when they meet here on Nov. 3. The conference of the premiers promises to be the most important of its kind since Confederation. In view of the fact that several constitutional questions will come up for discussion and perhaps action. While the conference will have no actual legislative or administrative authority, its conclusion will be far-reaching, as they will affect the legislative programmes of the future of the nine provincial governments during the next year.

SEEKING LAND IN CANADA

This photograph, taken outside the Union Station, Winnipeg, is of a group of prominent United States farmers, who have been looking over settlement prospects in Saskatchewan and some of whom have purchased land. They were brought to Canada in September by Capt. L. B. Boyd, superintendent of the land, colonization and development department of the Canadian National Railways at St. Paul, Minnesota, and were interested in the Estlin, Tyner Valley and Snipe

Employees Can Buy Shares

Sir Alfred Moved To Try Out Co-Operation Plan

London.—Co-operation between employers and employees, which is not a new matter in the United States, is about to be tried out here by Sir Alfred Mond with 40,000 employees in his big Imperial Chemical Industries. Sir Alfred's idea is to make a capitalist of every one of his factory hands.

Through his offer the employees can buy Imperial Chemical shares, quoted at 30 shillings, for 27 shillings, six pence. The only restriction is that they do not speculate. He will award free shares to workers on the basis of a man earning $1,000 annually or less getting a free share for every four purchased. The workers can vote on their stock.

"That will create a direct bond between the company officials and workers," Sir Alfred said. "Industrial peace will not be gained by pleasant talk and nice dinner parties, but by actual contact between the men and employers working out practical schemes."

Arrange Exhibits For Agricultural Jubilee

Every Branch Of Federal Department To Be Represented Says Motherwell

Ottawa.—Every branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture will be represented in the celebration of Canada's Agricultural Jubilee, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, announced, "and they are altogether aside from the provincial, educational and livestock displays which will be part and parcel of this presentation of the greatest of all of the Dominion's basic industries."

Alberta, which has had its banner crop year, has notified the minister that its exhibit will comprise grains from this year's yield, and that its display will be most comprehensive. Manitoba and Saskatchewan also will be represented.

The agricultural jubilee will be staged at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto from November 16 to 26.

Irish Free State

President Cosgrave Makes Few Changes In His Cabinet

Dublin.—President Cosgrave, re-elected as chief executive of the Irish Free State council in the Dail Eireann, has made few changes in his ministry.

The changes that were made give Hon. Ernest Blythe the postmaster-generalship as well as the portfolio of finance minister. Hon. Patrick McGilligan took over the internal affairs ministry in addition to his Ministry of Commerce, while Hon. James Fitzgerald Kenney, became Minister of Justice.

After a four-hour debate on the whole Government policy the Dail approved by a vote of 76 to 70, President Cosgrave's cabinet.

MOVE TO SPEED UP IMMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN

Winnipeg.—Adoption of a quota policy in Canada to restrict non-British immigration was not regarded as feasible, Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, told a delegation of the general synod of the Anglican Church, which conferred with him here, but he gave his assurance that his department would do all it could to promote British immigration and to keep control over continental immigration.

The delegation consisted of Archbishop Matheson, the primate of all Canada; Chancellor Macbray, Mr. Justice Denison, J. W. R. Armstrong, W. G. Styles, Regina; G. B. Woods, Loftus H. Reid, Toronto; and Canon Vernon.

A statement issued said: "Mr. Forke stated that the subject of immigration would occupy an important place on the agenda of the conference between the Dominion and provincial governments in November."

"The minister expressed a desire to meet representatives of the churches and other voluntary organizations interested in immigration to confer with him at Ottawa with a view to full co-operation in securing an increased flow of British settlers for Canada. The minister pointed out the valuable assistance that can be rendered by the churches in developing nominations for British families for land settlement, farm workers and household workers, to receive the assisted passage rate, etc. mentioned that in the past year more than 5,000 Britishers have been thus nominated."

"Mr. Forke told the delegation that the assistance to be offered to enable British lads who make good in Canada as farm workers to take up land of their own will be applicable to boys placed out through the church of England hostels at Winnipeg, Melton and Edmonton. The department was doing everything possible to develop family settlement schemes along somewhat similar lines to the existing 3,000 family scheme."

"The Archbishop assured Mr. Forke that there had not been on the part of the synod or the church any intention of attacking or embarrassing the Government, nor were they actuated by any ill feeling towards the Roman Catholic Church."

Trying To Reach Coast

Mexican Rebel Leaders Being Pursued By Federal Troops

Mexico City.—Pursued through the wild mountain country and western Vera Cruz, the rebel generals, Arnulfo Gomez and Hector Alameda, were believed to be attempting to reach the coast, where passage in a fishing boat or other small craft would put them beyond the reach of the government.

Hot on their trails are scouting parties of federal troops under command of General Gonzales Escobar, who reported that he had dispersed the rebel forces and captured the main body, leaving Gomez and Alameda with only about 100 followers.

To guard against the activities of bandits attempting to take advantage of the situation, the government has ordered an adequate escort of federal soldiers for every freight and passenger train.

Infantile Paralysis Serum

Indianapolis, Ind.—Commercial production of a specific, said to be beneficial in the treatment of infantile paralysis, was announced here by the Eli Lilly Biological Laboratories, the concern which first produced the serum as a commercial product. The new serum has been developed in co-operation with Dr. Edward S. Rogers, now, head of the division of experimental bacteriology of the Mayo foundation, Rochester, Minn.

New Rural Mail Routes

Regina.—The necessary authority has been given by the post office department for the establishment of two additional rural mail routes in the Saskatchewan postal division, according to John Chamard, district superintendent of postal service for this area. One of the new routes which will be known as Saskatoon R.R. No. 2, will go from Saskatoon to Floral.

Russia Attempts To Salvage Millions In Treasure From Sunken Ship In Balaklava Bay

From the depths of Balaklava Bay the other day there was brought to the surface a gold coin. Its date was the year 1821 and it bore the inscription of George IV. Here, many felt, was tangible evidence that the rotting bulk of the British cruiser Black Prince, sunk in the great storm that swept over the harbor when the Crimean War was in progress, still holds fast to its treasure of a half million pounds sterling. One more chapter was being added to the old, old tale of the quest for "drowned gold"—a quest which goes on all over the world. Sometimes lost treasure ships are not found; sometimes, if found, it proves impossible to bring up their cargoes.

It took two years of a marine search for the Soviet Government to discover the timbers of the Black Prince. Within three months from the time of commencing work the Japanese company to which the contract for salvaging had been let brought up its first coin.

The treasure galleons of Spain that sank in the Caribbean, the strongrooms of the majestic East Indiamen that perished many years ago, the precious freight of many an ill-fated liner of modern times all have their seekers. Untold millions lie in the wrecks of argosies sunk by storm or war. Syndicate after syndicate has been formed to find them and every appliance of the diver has been brought into play.

The Lusitania, victim of a German submarine, lies in 285 feet of water with $5,000,000 in her hold; yet it is doubtful whether any attempt will be made to raise her for years to come. The working depth for divers, it is estimated, is limited to 300 feet at present, and zone of peril commences at 100 feet. Even a prize of $5,000,000 might not be worth recovering in view of the expenditure entailed. The British Admiralty has already refused a number of offers from Germans desirous of raising the Lusitania. They were anxious to prove their contention that she carried ammunition and was therefore a vessel of war.

One of the greatest feats in the salvaging of sunken treasure was the recovery of $35,000,000 from the Laurentic, which was torpedoed in 1917 and sank in ninety feet of water off the north coast of Ireland. Dredging proved too slow, and the crashing force of dynamite was applied to the plates of the wreck. Every coin in the strongroom was recovered by divers.

More than $250,000,000 in bullion has, it is estimated, been recovered from the wrecks of treasure ships by French and English syndicates, which sell shares in the ventures to the public. The total of unrecovered treasure however, exceeds this sum many times over. The locations of many of these fortunes have been known for years, but the treachery of the sea and the impossibility of working beyond a certain limit have prevented salvage.

Prospectors Not Exempt

Cannot Shoot Game Out Of Season If Short Of Food

The general impression that prospectors running short of food are entitled to shoot game at any time has been shown to be erroneous by a case recently heard at Merritt B.C., in which a Princeton man was convicted of killing a deer out of season. The man in question, pleaded that he and his partner were short of food, but the magistrate pointed out that the privilege of shooting game out of season was only accorded prospectors in unorganized territory. According to the Act, "unorganized territory" consists of that portion of the Province of British Columbia north of the 53rd parallel which passes somewhere near Quesnel. While refusing to accept a plea of ignorance of the law the magistrate reduced the fine to the minimum of $25.

To Repair British Houses Of Parliament

Work Will Occupy Fifteen Years and Cost Six Million Dollars

It is estimated that the cost of repairing the Houses of Parliament, which is to begin the next few months, will amount to almost $6,000,000, and that the work will occupy fifteen years. The figure is more than half the original cost of the buildings, and they took less time to build from Sir Charles Barry's plans than will now be spent in repairing them.

There is no question that the Houses are among the great buildings of the world, architecturally as well as in mere size, though Englishmen do not always recognize their merit. To go over them, above and below ground, and from end to end, is a good day's work.

There are something like 1,500 fireplaces in the two Houses, and the points of light run to very high figures, necessitating a large caretaking staff always on the spot. It is mainly the exterior however, with which the public are concerned.

Wool Research Work

Will Study Wool Growing and Wool Manufacturing In Canada

Final practical plans for research work into wool growing and wool manufacturing in Canada, designed to help both farmers and the industry, were completed at a meeting held in Toronto of a special committee under the chairmanship of Dr. H. M. Tory, of Alberta, president.

Basic considerations and methods of examination of Canadian grown wools were outlined in a report from Prof. J. P. Sackville, University of Alberta, with special reference to wools produced in the west. A. A. McMillan, department of agriculture, Ottawa, impressed the meeting with the importance of the sire in raising efficient flocks.

Prof. Wade Toole, Ontario Agricultural College, was also of the opinion that the ram was the most important study, and that Shropshire rams imported from England had ruined many flocks in Canada, and other flocks had been ruined by imported rams or other breeds. He considered that Canadian farmers could and should breed their own rams instead of importing them. Mr. Tisdale, an official of the Canadian Cooperative Wool Growers' Association, upheld Mr. Toole, declaring that Oxford rams imported from England had ruined flocks in western Canada.

Spirit Of Adventure

Dominant In the Youth Of Twenty Years Ago, But Is Less Now

A lessening of the spirit of adventure, coupled with a tendency to incline support toward agencies which exist for that purpose, may be important factors in the diminution of emigration from Great Britain. This suggestion is advanced by J. Bruce Walker, director of European Immigration for the Canadian department of immigration and colonization. This spirit of adventure and optimism, said Mr. Bruce Walker, in an interview at Ottawa, was dominant in the youth of twenty years ago, but, through either social or political reasons—or a combination of both — there is now, he said, too great a disposition to look to others for aid in doing what should be done by oneself.

The Banff Fish Hatchery where the albinoes are raised. (Inset) The unusual trout in question.

A FISHY ALBINO STORY

This story proves the saying, "Truth is stranger than fiction," and it is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

As the picture shows, it is a fish story, originating in Canada's most beautiful scenic spot, Banff. Albinoes appear quite frequently among animals and humans, but among the piscatorial tribes they are practically unknown that is to say, they were unknown until this summer. Now they have them at Banff, where all visiting there may see and believe.

These albino brown trout, an even fifty of them, are located at the government fish hatchery where they had a hatch of 118,000. Out of this 55 saw the light, as you might say. Later another five died while, quite young,

Electric Lights For Laying Hens

More Eggs Are Obtained During the Winter Months

In order to find out what effect electric lighting has on egg production and the general development of hens, a test has been carried on during the last three years at the Kapuskasing Experimental Station in Northern Ontario. In each of the three years one hundred pullets were used in the experiment. They were equally divided as to weight, general development and breeding into two pens of fifty each. All conditions were similar except that one pen got no electric light while the other was lighted from four in the morning until daylight from November 1 to April 30.

The results of the experiment which are given in the latest report of the superintendent of the station, show that lights have a favorable effect on the number of eggs laid during the winter months, as the three year average showed an advantage of nearly 500 eggs for the pen with lights. At the same time over the whole year the pen with lights laid fewer eggs than the one without lights. The biggest advantage in the use of lights would appear to be in the fact that more eggs are obtained during the winter months when the price is high. The experiment also showed that lights have very little effect on the body weight of laying pullets during the winter months. They also have little effect on the amount of feed consumed, and therefore on the cost of feeding.

Fifty Miles Of Books

Library Of British Museum Started On Small Scale

The British Museum Library contains nearly 4,000,000 books, stored on fifty miles of shelves.

Before the opening of the present reading room in 1875, this gigantic storehouse of literature was consulted by only some half-dozen readers daily. They were accommodated in a small basement room, furnished with a few "cane-bottomed chairs and one balze-covered table."

Readers now average between 600 and 700 daily. They sit at desks radiating like the spokes of a wheel from two concentric circles, in the inner of which sit the officials, while the printed catalogue comprising about 1,600 volumes, is arranged round the outer circle.

How is it that in a country like Canada, where slavery has never been an institution, the word "slave" should enter into the names of prominent geographical features, such as, Great Slave Lake, Slave River, and Lesser Slave Lake?

A statement, furnished by the Geographic Board of Canada, throws an interesting light on the history of the North West and upon Indian customs. Indian place-names, it points out, may refer to physical characteristics of the place, to incidents in the history of the tribe, or to associations of a tribe with a region. Examples may be seen in Saskatchewan River (swift flowing), Battle River (place of numerous battles), and Ottawa River (river frequented by the Ottawa tribe). Another point is that Indian tribes generally had two names — the name they gave themselves, and the name given them by their enemies—and in many cases the names which have been used by the white man have been "enemy" names. This accounts for the very uncomplimentary names which some Indian tribes bear.

The record then proceeds to the effect that Great and Lesser Slave Lakes and Slave River were named from a tribe of Indians which once dwelt in that region. These Indians called themselves Etchareottine, which means "the people dwelling in the shelter of the (Rocky) Mountains." In contradistinction to other northern Indians who were caribou-eaters and travelled widely in pursuit of game, the Etchareottines were fish-eaters and kept to the lakes.

When the more warlike Crees went on the war-path against the tribes on the Peace River they came from the south in canoes to Lesser Slave Lake, and leaving their canoes there, proceeded overland. It is, therefore, readily to be understood how war-parties of Crees, finding that the lake-dwelling Indians did not possess their own war-like attributes and ideas, show their contempt by bestowing on the lake-dwellers the epithet "awonak" or "slaves."

An Excuse For Existence

Horse Pays Best On Short Hauls and Frequent Stops

In spite of the omnipresence of the automobile, the horse still has an economic excuse for existence. Wherever there are "short hauls" and frequent stops, it pays to use horseflesh instead of gasoline. It costs 6 cents a minute to keep a big auto truck on the streets of New York, and only two cents a minute to use a two-horse team that will draw nearly the same weight of freight. The milk companies of the same city have found that it costs $102,000 less a year to deliver $1,000,000 worth of milk in one-horse wagons than by automobile trucks. And with the continually increasing congestion of motor traffic Dobbin's economic advantage promises to increase rather than diminish.—Youth's Companion.

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

The door of the common room opened quietly. The light was switched on, and Mrs. Wymuth in dishevelled night clothes stood blinking like an owl at the light. Helmi stood at the window facing her, unafraid and calm.

Mrs. Wymuth had a sudden plan. Helmi had come back to the scene—she was frightened—now was the time.

"I came the glass to pick up," said Helmi, in a whisper. "I hope he is not hurt bad."

"He is dead," said Mrs. Wymuth, in a voice as hollow as an empty church. "Oh, Helmi, you have killed him, killed him by your blow. He is lying now cold in death."

Dead! The room swam past Helmi, table—chairs—door. Dead! The word beat like a drum with every beat of her heart. Dead! Dead! Dead! Murda! Murda!

The red words danced before her eyes.

"Helmi, the police will come for you. I will have to send for them—I will have to tell them you struck him down. Listen, Helmi, tell me now who was it sent you for the dose? I'll save you, Helmi, even now, if you'll say the name."

Terror had frozen Helmi's blood. She knew how awful a thing it was to kill—people who kill are hanged! She locked and unlocked her hands.

"Just say the name, Helmi, and I'll save you—just the name."

For the moment Helmi could not remove her mind from the terrible present. Then she remembered. She

Ottawa Woman Made Strong by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottawa, Ontario.—"I was terribly run-down after the birth of my third baby. I had awful bearing-down pains and was afraid I had serious trouble. I was tired all the time and had no appetite. My sister-in-law taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it too highly and asked me to try it. I have had splendid results and feel fine all the time now. Any one who needs a thorough pick-me-up soon learns from me what to take."—Mrs. RENE PAQUIN, 312 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Hamilton, Ont.—"After my baby was born I had terrible backache and headaches. I could not do my work and felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides when I moved about. I had to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go undone at the time, because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first one and have not had any trouble like it since."—Mrs. T. ### One Crop Buys Farm

Remarkable Success Of New Settler On Lethbridge Irrigation Tract

Here is the report of the first new settler on the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation tract to complete harvesting this year: Saunders Bros., of Iron Springs—purchased quarter section there last July paying $1,894.80, one-third crop to go to Lethbridge Northern as purchase price. Broke land in August. Seeded to spring wheat 140 acres. Harvest concluded, all wheat in elevator. Total crop 4,581 bushels. Grade No. 1. Offer for wheat today $1.33 per bushel net to owner. L. N. share 1,500 bushels at $1.33, total value $2,000; which means that the Lethbridge Northern, if it sells the wheat today, will have to return $105.20 to Saunders Bros., being the excess which one-third of the crop brought over purchase price of land. This crop was cut and harvested with a combine and the grain graded a perfect No. 1 direct from the machine.

wanted. I believe she'll keep her promise, she's that kind. If she doesn't it will be my word against hers, anyway, and she won't have much chance. But I'd hate it to come to that—I hate scenes. How could I tell there was going to be a ridd that day? And I believe that Home is not such a bad place—there's a teacher there—and maybe she won't mind it. Anyway, I can't help it. A girl as pretty as that was likely to strike a snag anyway."

Users of the drug are not much troubled with pangs of conscience. Yet the thought persisted, gnawing, nagging cutting in upon her gayest moments. She could not forget Helmi with her worshipping eyes and her blind, unreasoning adoration—she couldn't forget her.

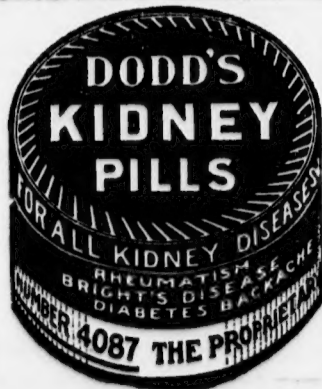

Then Eva tried another way. She had always been able by taking thought to justify her actions. She now justified her silence by telling herself that if she had come forward and confessed that she had sent Helmi for the drug it would have injured her husband's practice, and probably broken his heart. She told herself over and over again that she owed her first duty to him. He did so much for suffering humanity, eased so many people's pain, and did it so generously, that nothing must ever injure him. That was her first duty, to guard her husband.

Eva began to believe in her own wifely devotion. A woman's life should be submerged in her husband's anyway—she really had no life apart from him. She had been wrong to be so independent of dear old Humphrey—he was the safest port in a storm after all. An early Victorian spirit settled down upon her.

In her new-found enthusiasm Eva grew more thoughtful of the Doctor's comfort and more interested in his work. The Doctor, hungry for her favor, was quick to see the little attention she was bestowing on him, and responded with the eagerness of a faithful dog. Eva, always analytical, and deeply interested in her own mental experiences, began to feel that the episode of Helmi was a providential thing, inasmuch as it was bringing her and her husband closer together, and under the stimulus of this belief she redoubled her efforts to please him. She went to church with him; she joined some of the women's societies. Eva was not unmindful of the benefit she would receive socially from these affiliations. It pleased her, too, to find what a flutter of pleasure her coming made in the societies. Any way, it was good policy to make her social position as secure as possible, and if Helmi did accuse her it would be easier. Through all of Eva's plans there ran one cool purpose, yet she managed to keep her conscience clear as the noon-day sun. She had mastered the art of self-deception.

Following out her plan to establish a blameless record and an invincible social one, it occurred to Eva that it might be well for her to show an interest in the Girls' Friendly Home. It would show to the world that although the young Finnish girl had treated her badly there was no room in her noble heart for resentment. She gloved with the thought. Having put her hand to the plow she would not turn back.

Miss Able was delighted when she heard that Mrs. St. John thought of going out to see the girls, and not only that but was going to give a tea for the Home. She reported this to Mrs. Wymuth the Sunday following, when paying her weekly visits to the Eva St. John had many terrifying moments when she thought of Helmi, and in so far as she was capable of feeling sorry she was truly repentant. "Poor kid," she often said to herself, "if she weren't so pretty it wouldn't matter so much. Ugly women might as well be in jail anyway, for all the fun they can have, but this kid could have had anything she

Home. It was used by Mrs. Wymuth in her turn, not only to show the girls how grateful they should be for food, shelter, clothing, and the blessings of the gospel, but also for kind friends to think of them. Mrs. Wymuth's tongue dripped honey, when she made the announcement to the girls.

Had Thrilling Trip

Girl Member Of Trader Crew Returns After Voyage To South Seas

A proposal of marriage from a cannibal chief in the New Hebrides and a score of other adventures in the South Seas were part of the story of a girl who returned to her home in New York after a runaway trip to sea.

The girl, Viola Irene Cooper, a member of a trader crew that included Malays, Arabs, Fijians, Portuguese and French men, stood watch and ate shark fins as regularly as the most able bodied seaman in the realization of a dream inspired by reading the sea stories of Stevenson, Conrad and Melville.

Miss Cooper shipped from San Francisco with a friend, Jean Schoen. The girls had considerable difficulty getting jobs but a kindly captain finally hired them and away they went on a cruise to the romantic lands they had long desired to see.

"We were treated courteously by every one we met," reports Miss Cooper. "I was only scared once, and that was by the cannibal chief. He pinched my arm and said 'You belong to me.' and I did not know whether he wanted to marry me or eat me. But we were good friends after that, and he promised me a copra island if I would send him a silk hat and a cutaway coat. I promised I would."

Little Helps For This Week

For we are saved by hope.—Romans viii. 24.

And do not fear to hope. Can poet's brain More than the Father's heart rich good invent? Each time we smell the autumn's dying scent.

We know the primrose time will come again; Not more we hope, nor less would soothe our pain.

—George MacDonald.

"We should hope for everything that is good," says the old poet Linus, because there is nothing which may not be hoped for, and nothing but what the gods are able to give us." Hope quickens all the still parts of life, and keeps the mind awake in her most remote and indolent hours. It gives habitual serenity and good humor; it is a kind of vital heat in the soul that cheers and gladdens her when she does not attend to it. It makes pain easy and labor pleasant.

—Joseph Addison.

French Countess Has Prosperous Plantation In Indo-China

Mme. Rivera de la Souchere of the French aristocracy has made a remarkable success of a rubber plantation and cattle farm in Indo-China. Recently she was decorated by the French Government with the Cross of the Legion of Honor. Her formidable task began twelve years ago alone in the virgin forest of the colony. Mme. Souchere, unaided by any white companions, made her plantation one of the most prosperous in the country. Everything is under her sole supervision, from the model village, with its meeting house, to the villa for sick natives.

Ride In Luxury Car

A "luxury car" has ended a strike of village school children in Awre, England. Parents of the pupils objected to a tumble-down vehicle used to convey the children to and from Newham School, four miles away. They kept their children at home. Finally, the Gloucestershire Education Committee provided a bus which is termed a "luxury car," and the children have gone back to school.

Smallest Portrait Disappears

Scotland Yard is seeking the world's tiniest portrait, which disappeared from an exhibition of the Royal Photographic Society. It is that of Niece, inventor of an early day photographic process. It requires enlargement 150,000 times to make a picture the size of a half dollar.

The Prefect of Police of Peking, China, has issued a decree forbidding short hair, short skirts and décolleté gowns.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

in fiction. A women's the greatest of all contradictions. She's afraid of a cockroach, she'll scream at a mouse; but she'll tackle a husband as big as a house. She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse she'll split his head open and then be his nurse, and when he is well and can get out of bed, she'll pick up a teapot to throw at his head.
She's faithful, deceitful, keen-sighted and blind. She's crafty, she's simple, she's cruel, she's kind.
She'll lift a man up, she'll cast a man down, she'll make him her idol and she'll make him her clown.
You fancy she's this, but you find she is that, for she'll play like a kitten, and bite like a cat; in the morning she will, in the evening she won't, and you are always expecting she does, but she don't.
